TWO BURLY New York policemen stand guard over the editorial offices of the Communist Daily Worker following a raid by government treasury agents, who also swooped down on red offices in six other large cities. Agents carried liens charging tax evasions. Police were called out here when Daily Worker employees refused to obey the order to get out. Here editor John Gates looks out of the closed office.

NEW YORK (AP)—The man who masterminded the Treasury Department's raids on Communist party's newspaper, the Daily Worker, was in Washington today apparently to explain his action.

The office of Donald Moysey, New York district revenue director, said he had been summoned to Washington last night. It was assumed the call came from Russell C. Harrington, commissioner of internal revenue.

For hours after the raids yesterday, Harrington was unable to explain them. Eventually, it was determined that Moysey conceived the idea himself.

Formerly an auditor in the service's Washington office Moysey was named director Feb. 7.

In sudden raids yesterday, internal revenue agents snapped padlocks on the newspaper and Communist party offices in five cities. The government said the party owed $389,265 in income taxes for 1951 and the Daily Worker $46,049 for 1951, 52 and 53.

The party took the position that it was tax exempt. The Daily Worker claimed the government move was an effort to force the paper to disclose names of its financial backers.

In Washington, an Internal Revenue Service spokesman said income of political parties which goes for party expenses and not individual benefits is tax exempt. But he said income from profit-making activities is subject to taxation. The Communists long have conducted parties, dances, lectures and the like as fund-raising devices.

THOUGH ITS editorial offices were locked, the Worker was able to roll an estimated 14,000 copies off the presses today because the paper's typesetting and press work are handled by a private firm.

"Our Office Seized — Here We Are," read the paper's headline. Meanwhile, the Daily Worker's attorney, Harry Sacher, said internal revenue officials assured him that no effort would be made to interfere with actual publication of the paper.

I recently heard Dr. Charles A. Dambach, director of the Institute of Natural Resources at Ohio State University, say during a lecture that the time is coming when irrigation will be an important adjunct to crop production in some parts of Ohio.

As timber continues to vanish and evaporation is expedited, coupled with short rainfall, the need of irrigation to meet the changed conditions is being realized more and more, and will be given more attention as the need for artificial watering of soil for crops continues to grow.

Although Ohio is well watered, the state stands near the bottom in artificial reservoirs for impounding water for use of citizens generally.

Each year, as the population grows and industry demands more and more water, the clamor for greater water reserves by impounding water in streams, has increased, and it is safe to predict that in the not very distant future dams will be built across nearly every sizeable stream in Fayette County for conserving water.

Anti-Stalin Drive Taken To People

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government announced today that Prime Minister Tager Erlander of neutral Sweden will tour Stalin's native Georgia and neighboring Armenia, where rioting has been reported as a result of the current Kremlin denunciation of the late Soviet dictator.

The announcement of the Swedish leader's tour was taken as an indication that all is quiet in the two southern republics and that the Soviet government feels it has nothing to hide there.

Erlander's trip was announced less than 12 hours after the Communist party organ Pravda published the first broad-scale Soviet newspaper denunciation of Stalin. It said his drive for glory took "monstrous forms" which harmed the Communist cause.

In a 7,000-word article spread over 12 columns, the newspaper brought home to the general Russian public for the first time the new Soviet leadership's campaign to chop down Stalin's historical stature.

Pravda paid tribute to Stalin's work in the first years after Lenin's death.

"BUT THEN certain features and qualities began gradually to appear in Stalin's practice of leadership which later developed into the cult of the individual," Pravda charged, adding:

"The gigantic successes in building a new society, achieved by the Soviet people under the leadership of the Communist party, on the basis of laws of history discovered by Marxism - Leninism, were strongly attributed to one man—Stalin—and were explained by his special merits as a leader."

"He, lacking personal modesty, did not cut short the glorifications and praises addressed to him but supported and encouraged them in every way."

"As time went on, this cult of the individual assumed even more monstrous forms and did serious harm to the cause."

The Pravda article appeared only the opening gun in a newspaper campaign against Stalin. It made no mention of the most sensational charges which reports reaching the West have said the new Soviet high command has leveled against their former chief, that he maintained a continuous reign of terror, murdered thousands of his party associates and the flower of the Red army officer corps and placed the nation in danger of Hitler conquest.

Pravda assured the Russian people that the Soviet Union now is on the right track.

IT SAID THE Communist party is the leader and organizer of the Soviet people "and the collective leader of the party, guarding and interpreting its principles, is the Central Committee."

The campaign to destroy the ury action was "an outrageous attack on the freedom of the press."

Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the U. S. Communist party, sent a telegram to President Eisenhower saying the raids were a "lawless attempt to muzzle political opponents by police force."

The action was ordered by Donald Moysey, New York District revenue director. "We're not picking on anybody," he said. "They're (the Communists) just the same as all taxpayers."

But Joseph Pactot, the man who will take over from Poppen, is "strictly temporary," he says. Pactot has been camping director for the Central Ohio council of the Boy Scouts for the past two years and will still hold down that job while overseeing Scout activities here and in Highland County.

That, he points out, will necessarily limit his activities a bit.

HIS DUAL job—as field Scout executive and as camping director for the central Ohio council—will probably not last more than two months, Pactot estimates.

"They are trying hard to find a permanent replacement for Bob," he said. "It shouldn't be too long."

Pactot, a 32-year-old bachelor, will continue to live in Columbus while filling in for Poppen until a permanent replacement is found.

Poppen, meantime, will take over the big Dayton Boy Scout Council. He is to start in Dayton on April 1, when Pactot will take over his duties here.

High School Problem Solution Is Drawn Up by Miami Trace

The Miami Trace school board announced Wednesday that it had drawn up "a very practical and satisfactory solution" to the problem of where some 230 Miami Trace district students now attending Washington C. H. High School are going to go to school next year.

Details of the plan are not yet worked out, according to J. Herbert Perrill, a board member, but the "broad outlines" have been sketched out.

Briefly, the plan will call for splitting up the group of students among the county high schools, "especially Jeffersonville and Bloomington," and sending those who want to attend out-of-county schools to Greenfield, Sabina and Leesburg.

The problem arose when the Washington C. H. school board, caught in tightening squeeze for space and inability to work out a solution with the county board, announced that it would no longer be able to accommodate tuition students from outside the city school district.

The 230 youngsters from the

At the regular lodge meeting Tuesday night, the Odd Fellows voted unanimously to form a first aid unit within the lodge—made up of lodge members—as a part of the Civilian Defense set up for the county.

Two members of the lodge, both with recognized qualifications, volunteered to undertake the instruction and training of the new unit.

One of them is James W. Yates, a first aid trainer for the National Red Cross, and the other is Dallas D. Hess, also an instructor in first aid.

Several attempts to set up sky watches, or plane spotter units, have been made in the county, but only one ever materialized. That one successful attempt was in the Buena Vista community, where a headquarters was set up in the Township Hall and groups of volunteers from the surrounding community took turns standing watch and scanning the skies.

RATHER elaborate plans for a plane spotting unit in Washington C. H. were made at several different times but they faded out for lack of interest or support by volunteers.

These plans even included the erection of a watch tower with donated materials and labor; original plans called for the tower to be located near the disposal plant on Elm Street, but later the location was shifted to the Fairground. The Washington C. H. Council gave its sanction to the plans, but no tower ever was built.

There also were plans to organize a sky watching unit of volunteers at Milledgeville, but like those for the Washington C. H. unit, they faded out.

There have been indications during the last few days that attempts to establish a Civilian Defense program in the county are under way again. C. Virgil Sexton is the county director and Lyle Sowders heads up the movement for Washington C. H.

THE CIVILIAN Defense program importance has been underscored recently by developments in the field of nuclear weapons and guided missiles.

Sexton has pointed out many times that Fayette County is surrounded by top priority military areas—in Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati—and that a near-miss of any of them from long range could mean a direct hit here.

With the Odd Fellows lodge getting behind the program as an organization, there was a feeling by some that new life would be injected into Civilian Defense movement here.

Yates and Hess, with the full support of the IOOF officers, have made it plain that they want, and expect, all members of the lodge to attend the meetings and take part in the first aid program.

The statement was signed, "The Miami Trace Board of Education," with the signatures of the members, Taylor Groff, President; Robert Owen, Vice President; Herbert Perrill, Richard Snyder and Gordon Cowdry.

"THERE'S SPACE in our system," commented Perrill, in amplifying section 5 of the Miami Trace board's statement.

That section stated that Jeffersonville and Bloomington schools would be relied upon most heavily of all four county high schools to take care of the overflow pupils. The other two schools are at Good Hope and Madison Mills.

In the report of the Miami Trace district's 29-man Fact Finding committee in last Friday's Record-Herald, Bloomington was described by Perrill as the most severely overcrowded school in the Miami Trace system.

Perrill explained that space in such county schools as Bloomington "could be had on an emergency basis."

AKRON (AP)—Three men died in two house fires in the Akron area early today.

Junie Cathey, 58, and Forest Carr, 39, burned to death when they tried to rescue Carr's four children from his burning two-story home. The children—Mary, 18; Catherine, 15; Kenneth, 6, and Gary, 3—all escaped by jumping from windows.

Charles Banneck, 33, a bachelor who lived alone, was found dead on the floor of his burning living room. He was clutching a fire extinguisher and a flashlight.

TOKYO (AP)—A belt of trees 3,000 miles long will be planted across northern China to protect it from the shifting Gobi Desert, radio Peiping said today.

Miami Trace district are now attending Washington C. H. High School on a tuition basis.

The city school board's action followed the blocking of a proposed territory transfer which would have taken a belt of land around Washington C. H. out of the Miami Trace district and made it a part of the city school district.

Petitions of protest signed by residents of the territory blocked the transfer.

THE PLAN to find facilities for the 230 tuition students was developed at a special meeting held in Jeffersonville Tuesday evening, Perrill said.

That session followed what Perrill described as a routine board meeting at 6 P. M. in the Miami

Trace offices at Wilson School on the Greenfield Pike.

The meeting first had been scheduled for 8 P. M. Several residents of the district, who had planned to attend what they said they thought was a public meeting, arrived at the office only to be told by the clerk of the board, Mrs. Senath Thompson, that the board had completed its business and gone.

Perrill explained Wednesday that the time of the board meeting had been changed on short notice so the members could go to Jeffersonville to meet with "several leading citizens," who were not named.

"This is a situation which sometimes demands a change of plans on very short notice," he commented.

The regular meeting at 6 P. M. was devoted to routine business such as bill - paying and the reading of the minutes, Perrill said.

AT THE second session in Jeffersonville, however, the board drafted the following statement:

"To parents of those rural students who have been barred from attending Washington High School by the Washington City Board of Education:

"1. Your Miami Trace Board has made at least three attempts to arrange a joint meeting with the City Board to discuss and resolve the situation resulting from the recent action of the City Board.

"2. Those attempts have been unsuccessful.

"3. After exhaustive study, your Board has found there does exist a very practical and satisfactory solution which will not inconvenience anyone to any great extent.

"4. Some of our High School pupils now attend Greenfield, Sabina and Leesburg. For those parents and students who so desire, more accommodation may be had from these three schools.

"5. All of this plus the help of our own High Schools, especially Jeffersonville and Bloomington will enable your Board to adequately handle this situation.

"6. The same courses and opportunities can and will be offered our students as were provided in Washington High School.

"7. The determination of rural folks to have their own High Schools and upon which the Board feels they have a right to vote, is now being tested.

"8. More detailed information will be furnished you in the near future."

Group Member Sees Prospect Of Ike's Veto

Florida Senator Labels High Props. Dual Parity As Chief Objections

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Holland (D-Fla.), one of 10 Congress members drafting compromise farm legislation, said today, "We may have sounded the death knell for any farm bill this session."

Holland indicated he thinks President Eisenhower may veto the bill if the final version contains two provisions adopted yesterday by the Senate-House conference committee trying to compromise different measures passed by the two branches.

Both provisions would have the effect of raising the level of government farm price supports. The Agriculture Department estimated they would cost the government, assuming an average crop year, $1 billion more in 1956 than would the present program.

Yesterday's actions by the conferees could boost supports for wheat as much as 45 cents a bushel for this year and corn as much as 24 cents.

Agriculture Secretary Benson previously had announced an average wheat price support of $1.81 a bushel for this year. The mandatory 90 per cent support would boost this to $2.13 and the dual parity provision to $2.26.

BENSON ALSO had announced a corn price support of $1.40. The rigid 90 per cent support would be $1.56 a bushel and the dual parity provision would lift this to $1.64.

Eliminated from the bill was a $100,000 limit on total price supports in one year to one farm or farmer, inserted by the Senate. Also stricken were a proposed $25,000 top limit in one state on the acreage reserve payment to one farmer, and a similar $7,500 limit on the conservation reserve payment in one state under the proposed soil bank.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), also a member of the conference committee and chief Senate spokesman for the administration on farm policy, said the "situation is not completely hopeless."

"When we conferees get through, both the House and Senate still must pass on these provisions," he said. "It is possible to send this back and demand we soften it somewhat."

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Senate conferees, said: "I think the President will sign this bill. He's getting about every thing he asked for, including the big thing, the soil bank. Of course, there are a couple of little gadgets he doesn't want."

The soil bank, the administration's major 1956 farm recommendation, contemplates payments of $12 billion to farmers who retire land from production of cash crops.

BENSON DOES not think Eisenhower will approve a return to rigid price supports for even one year.

He described as "indefensible, political log rolling" the action of the conference committee in adopting "dual parity."

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to producers in relation to their costs. The "dual parity" provision would require the government to use whichever of two parity formulas results in the higher figure.

MCCONNELSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Attorneys for Jack W. Eberle, 25, who was ousted from a high school teaching job for paddling girl students, have called upon the members of the Deavertown Board of Education and their clerk to resign.

The request came after a spokesman for the board reportedly said "it is very unlikely" that the board will reverse its ouster order.

Eberle, pastor of the Life Begins Bible Church here, is charged also with teaching Bible contrary to state statute and failure to cooperate with school officials. He was fired March 14.

Eberle is free under $500 bond pending grand jury action on an assault and battery charge filed by the parents of one of the five students he is accused of paddling. 15-year-old Brenda Kennel of Gaysport.

Some 20 countries have agreed to participate.

President Eisenhower has praised the contest, and Secretary of Agriculture Benson is listed as honorary chairman of the exposition's steering committee.

A number of other administration officials also are listed as committee members.

But the department spokesman said a letter has been forwarded to the Budget Bureau, questioning whether it would be advisable to spend money on this contest if it "set a precedent."

In addition, he said, the department feels that it has already budgeted all the money it can spend. He said he doesn't know whether the contest could be staged without federal help.

"It's too bad," said the spokesman, "since the contest is worthy."

This isn't the first opposition the sponsors of the contest have encountered.

Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee questioned contest officials at length when they appeared before him several weeks ago.

Cooley told one official, Bob Miller of Cincinnati, that he felt the request for funds was far too

High School Problem Solution Is Drawn Up by Miami Trace

The Miami Trace school board announced Wednesday that it had drawn up "a very practical and satisfactory solution" to the problem of where some 230 Miami Trace district students now attending Washington C. H. High School are going to go to school next year.

Details of the plan are not yet worked out, according to J. Herber Perrill, a board member, but the "broad outlines" have been sketched out.

Briefly, the plan will call for splitting up the group of students among the county high schools, "especially Jeffersonville and Bloomington," and sending those who want to attend out-of-county schools to Greenfield, Sabina and Leesburg.

The problem arose when the Washington C. H. school board, caught in tightening squeeze for space and inability to work out a solution with the county board, announced that it would no longer be able to accommodate tuition students from outside the city school district.

The 230 youngsters from the Miami Trace district are now attending Washington C. H. High School on a tuition basis.

The city school board's action followed the blocking of a proposed territory transfer which would have taken a belt of land around Washington C. H. out of the Miami Trace district and made it a part of the city school district.

Petitions of protest signed by residents of the territory blocked the transfer.

THE PLAN to find facilities for the 230 tuition students was developed at a special meeting held in Jeffersonville Tuesday evening, Perrill said.

That session followed what Perrill described as a routine board meeting at 6 P. M. in the Miami

Civilian Defense Given Boost Here

Temple lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows here today had moved into the support of the Civilian Defense program in Fayette County.

At the regular lodge meeting Tuesday night, the Odd Fellows voted unanimously to form a first aid unit within the lodge—made up of lodge members—as a part of the Civilian Defense set up for the county.

Two members of the lodge, both with recognized qualifications, volunteered to undertake the instruction and training of the new unit.

One of them is James W. Yates, a first aid trainer for the National Red Cross, and the other is Dallas D. Hess, also an instructor in first aid.

Several attempts to set up sky watches, or plane spotter units, have been made in the county, but only one ever materialized. That one successful attempt was in the Buena Vista community, where a headquarters was set up in the Township Hall and groups of volunteers from the surrounding community took turns standing watch and scanning the skies.

Ohio Girl, 11, Married To Youth Of 18

BUENAVISTA (AP)—A case stemming from the marriage of an 11-year-old girl last year is underway in the Crawford County juvenile court.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gans of Galion, foster parents of Karlene Thorn, are charged with acting in a way tending to cause the delinquency of a minor.

The child was married in Morgantown, W. Va., Oct. 24, 1955, to Stanley Thorn, 18, of Galion, with the foster parents giving their consent, authorities said. Since mid-February, the girl has been in custody of the Crawford County Child Welfare Board.

Karlene was born in Mason City, W. Va., the daughter of Vivian Widdie, since dead. On Aug. 10, 1945, the mother permitted adoption of the girl, a few days after birth, by Mr. and Mrs. Gans.

An attorney for the Gans, Donald Lett of Mansfield, said in his opening statement that the child had matured about the age of six, and her physical condition was such that under a physician's advice she underwent an operation. He said the foster parents believed that her marriage would help the girl.

The state says that the foster parents had no right to consent to the marriage and that they lied about the girl's age.

Typhoon Tracked

GUAM (AP)—Typhoon Sarah, with winds up to 115 miles per hour, was centered about 500 miles from here tonight, moving 12 miles per hour in a northwesterly course.

plane spotting unit in Washington C. H. were made at several different times but they faded out for lack of interest or support by volunteers.

These plans even included the erection of a watch tower with donated materials and labor; original plans called for the tower to be located near the disposal plant on Elm Street, but later the location was shifted to the Fairground. The Washington C. H. Council gave its sanction to the plans, but no tower ever was built.

There also were plans to organize a sky watching unit of volunteers at Milledgeville, but like those for the Washington C. H. unit, they faded out.

There have been indications during the last few days that attempts to establish a Civilian Defense program in the county are under way again. C. Virgil Sexton is the county director and Lyle Sowders heads up the movement for Washington C. H.

THE CIVILIAN Defense program importance has been underscored recently by developments in the field of nuclear weapons and guided missiles.

Sexton has pointed out many times that Fayette County is surrounded by top priority military areas—in Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati—and that a near-miss of any of them from long range could mean a direct hit here.

With the Odd Fellows lodge getting behind the program as an organization, there was a feeling by some that new life would be injected into Civilian Defense movement here.

Yates and Hess, with the full support of the IOOF officers, have made it plain that they want, and expect, all members of the lodge to attend the meetings and take part in the first aid program.

THE STATEMENT was signed, "The Miami Trace Board of Education," with the signatures of the members, Taylor Groff, President; Robert Owen, Vice President; Herbert Perrill, Richard Snyder and Gordon Cowdry.

"THERE'S SPACE in our system," commented Perrill, in amplifying section 5 of the Miami Trace board's statement.

That section stated that Jeffersonville and Bloomington schools would be relied upon most heavily of all four county high schools to take care of the overflow pupils. The other two schools are at Good Hope and Madison Mills.

In the report of the Miami Trace district's 29-man Fact Finding committee in last Friday's Record-Herald, Bloomington was described by Perrill as the most severely overcrowded school in the Miami Trace system.

Perrill explained that space in such county schools as Bloomington "could be had on an emergency basis."

3 Men Perish In Akron Fires

AKRON (AP)—Three men died in two house fires in the Akron area early today.

Junie Cathey, 58, and Forest Carr, 39, burned to death when they tried to rescue Carr's four children from his burning two-story home. The children—Mary, 18; Catherine, 15; Kenneth, 6, and Gary, 3—all escaped by jumping from windows.

Charles Banneck, 33, a bachelor who lived alone, was found dead on the floor of his burning living room. He was clutching a fire extinguisher and a flashlight.

Group Member Sees Prospect Of Ike's Veto

Florida Senator Labels High Props, Dual Parity As Chief Objections

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Holland (D-Fla.), one of 10 Congress members drafting compromise farm legislation, said today, "We may have sounded the death knell for any farm bill this session."

Holland indicated he thinks President Eisenhower may veto the bill if the final version contains two provisions adopted yesterday by the Senate-House conference committee trying to compromise different measures passed by the two branches.

Both provisions would have the effect of raising the level of government farm price supports. The Agriculture Department estimated they would cost the government, assuming an average crop year, $1 billion more in 1956 than would the present program.

Yesterday's actions by the conferees could boost supports for wheat as much as 45 cents a bushel for this year and corn as much as 24 cents.

Agriculture Secretary Benson previously had announced an average wheat price support of $1.81 a bushel for this year. The mandatory 90 per cent support would boost this to $2.13 and the dual parity provision to $2.26.

BENSON ALSO had announced a corn price support of $1.40. The rigid 90 per cent support would be $1.56 a bushel and the dual parity provision would lift this to $1.64.

Eliminated from the bill was a $100,000 limit on total price supports in one year to one farm or farmer, inserted by the Senate. Also stricken were a proposed $25,000 top limit in one state on the acreage reserve payment to one farmer, and a similar $7,500 limit on the conservation reserve payment in one state under the proposed soil bank.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), also a member of the conference committee and chief Senate spokesman for the administration on farm policy, said the "situation is not completely hopeless."

"When we conferees get through, both the House and Senate still must pass on these provisions," he said. "It is possible to send this back and demand we soften it somewhat."

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Senate conferees, said:

"I think the President will sign this bill. He's getting about every thing he asked for, including the big thing, the soil bank. Of course, there are a couple of little gadgets he doesn't want."

The soil bank, the administration's major 1956 farm recommendation, contemplates payments of $1.2 billion to farmers who retire land from production of cash crops.

BENSON DOES not think Eisenhower will approve a return to rigid price supports for even one year.

He described as "indefensible, political log rolling" the action of the conference committee in adopting "dual parity."

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to producers in relation to their costs. The "dual parity" provision would require the government to use whichever of two parity formulas results in the higher figure.

Cincy Man Accused In Wife-Shooting

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police have charged Benny Byrd, 28, with shooting with intent to kill in the wounding of his wife Goldie Monday in a crowded downtown department store.

Mrs. Byrd, also 28, is still in "critical" condition in General Hospital here.

Byrd was captured by an off-duty policeman seconds after his wife was shot in the department store where she worked.

Patrolman Called To Aid Own Mother

WEST NEW YORK, N.J. (AP)—Radio Patrolman Herbert Haas was called to investigate the death of a woman who collapsed with a heart attack while shoveling snow in front of her home. He found it was his mother Mrs. Mary Haas, 67.

Clifford Mabra Dies In Hospital

Clifford Mabra, 64, a native of Jeffersonville, died in Veterans' Hospital in Dayton at 12:15 A. M. Wednesday. He had been in the hospital for the last three months, but had been in failing health for more than a year.

He left Jeffersonville when a young man to follow his vocation of waiter in hotels and restaurants in many cities before he returned to Jeffersonville a little more than a year ago to make his home with his brother, Fern Mabra.

They were the last of the original Mabra family that settled in Jeffersonville, although there are many more distant relatives, including nieces and nephews, still living in the Jeffersonville community.

Funeral services are to be held at 2 P. M. Saturday at the Alvin G. Little Funeral Home in Jeffersonville. Interment is to be in the Fairview Cemetery there.

Friends may call at the funeral home any time Friday.

Funeral Is Held For Mrs. Wilson

Final tributes were paid to Mrs. Marjorie E. Wilson at funeral services held for her at 2 P. M. Tuesday in the Methodist Church at Bloomingburg.

Rev. Herbert Ricketts, the pastor of the church, read passages from the Bible, offered prayer and delivered the funeral sermon which also was a personal tribute to Mrs. Wilson. The minister also read the two hymns, "Going Down the Valley," and "Good Night and Good Morning."

Pallbearers for the interment in the Bloomingburg Cemetery were Charles Jones, Charles Rayburn, Jr., Corwin Carr, John Noble, Howard Cavinee and Donald Clark.

Committal Services Held For Miss Gilles

Brief committal services were conducted in Washington C. H. Cemetery by Rev. Edward Gray, a Baptist preacher, for Miss Minnie Gilles, Wednesday morning.

Miss Gilles, 84, died last Saturday in the State Hospital in Columbus where she had been since 1881.

Arrangements for the interment was made by a half-sister, Mrs. Nellie Glasco.

DOG ATTACKS CHILD

CIRCLEVILLE—Fourteen stitches were required to close facial wounds inflicted by a stray dog when it attacked three-year-old Jack Allen Nance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nance, of Derby.

It would be necessary to obtain permission for such emergency use from the state "on a temporary basis," he added.

COMMENTING ON the board's statement, President Robert Terhune of the Washington C. H. board said: "I can't visualize all three attempts (to set up a joint meeting of the city and Miami Trace boards.) But there was one attempt that I know of that I had forgotten."

Terhune explained that in a statement to the Record-Herald Tuesday, he had been mistaken in saying that no attempt had been made to arrange a joint meeting.

Taylor Groff, president of the Miami Trace board, had contacted him by telephone last Saturday, he said, and asked that a meeting be arranged for Tuesday.

Since Terhune and Elmer Reed each had two other meetings scheduled on Tuesday and two other board members Charles Pensyl and William Lovell, were out of the state, the invitation could not be accepted, he said.

"I forgot about the matter," Terhune added. "When I said Tuesday that I had heard nothing about a joint meeting, I was mistaken."

"But the meeting could not have been held anyway," he said. "I feel that the whole board should be present at a joint meeting."

The latest attempt to set up a joint meeting of the two boards came Tuesday evening, Terhune said. He and Groff then set either April 4 or 5 as a date for a joint session, he said.

New Officers Announced For Rotary Club

Colombian Student From OSU, Speaker At Tuesday Meeting

Robert Lisk, present vice-president, will be the new president of the Washington Rotary Club beginning the first week in July. Other new officers are Robert Haigler, vice-president; Joseph W. Campbell, secretary and B. M. Marlin, treasurer.

Announcement of the new group of officers, recently named by the board of trustees, was made at the Tuesday luncheon of the club at the Country Club by President Paul Dougherty.

THE SPEAKER for the day introduced by Atty. Rollo Marchant of the March program committee was Mr. Marco A. Arenas from Colombia, South America. He is one of 109 students from 29 different countries of the world who are sent to various countries to study by the Rotary Foundation. He received his bachelor's degree in education from The National University of Colombia and is working on his master's degree at Ohio State University. From OSU he intends to return to Colombia where he will complete work towards receiving a doctor's degree and then enter into the teaching profession.

Arenas, a very genial young man, extended greetings from the Rotary Clubs of Colombia to the Rotary members present and expressed his appreciation for the privilege of being present since it was only through the efforts of the many different local clubs that he was able to attend school in this country.

HE TOLD his audience that Colombia was a country that loved the democratic way of life and that during the last Korean conflict Colombia was the only South American country to send troops to assist the United Nations forces. Colombia considers the attack on South Korea an attack on her own way of life and felt that it was her responsibility to do what she could to protect that way of life, the speaker said.

Mountain ranges complicate the topography of Colombia and divide the country into distinct regions of valleys, plateaus, plains and jungle-forests. These features account for the huge variety of climates.

vegetation and cultivated crops there.

Since prehistoric times, the Colombian lands have been a crossroad in the Western hemisphere. Before the time of Columbus it was the forced route for the expansion of many ethnic groups; during the colonial period immigrants came from all the Spanish Empire, along with many African slaves. Presently, more than twelve and a half million inhabitants, mostly rural workers, are living on the 439,553 square miles of the country.

The Colombian population developed from a mixture of races. About 20 percent of the people are of the white race, 2 percent are Indians, 4 percent are negroes, and 74 percent are what is called mestizos which is a mixture of white and Indian.

CATHOLICISM is the official religion of Colombia with the Catholic Church contributing greatly in the development of the country and playing an important part in the development of education. There are two Catholic Universities with colleges located in Bogota and Medellin. There are 1,151 schools for elementary and secondary education with 8,862 teachers and 168,275 pupils. Theoretically education is compulsory but due to the lack of facilities and teachers all children do not attend school. The government of Colombia and the church are supporting radio broadcasts for adult education.

Due to the difficult terrain of the country much of the travel is either by air or railway. The roads are poor and are used primarily for the transportation of agriculture produce and raw materials.

ARENAS brought with him several articles of Colombia dress and some of the more common articles carried by the Colombian farmer when he goes to the city to sell his produce.

He showed the Rotarians a pancho that the typical native would wear and also a carriel which is a large leather pouch which the farmer wears to town and in which he carries all the necessary belongings he will need while in the city such as money, cigarettes, matches, etc. Every boy in Colombia looks forward to the time when he will have a carriel of his own.

He also showed copies of magazines and newspapers that had been sent to him from his homeland since he came to the United States; he passed them around among his hearers for all to see. In closing his program Mr. Arenas played several phonograph records from his country the last of which was the National Anthem of Colombia.

President Dougherty profusely congratulated the speaker when he concluded his remarks and told him that the Rotarians present now were informed about 100 percent better about Colombia than ever before.

PREVIOUS TO the main feature of the program President Dougherty called attention to the fact that this probably was the last meeting of the local club which one of its valued members would be able to attend and mentioned that this member, Rev. Harold Braden, was leaving soon for the church to which he had been called as pastor in the West, at Estes Park, Colorado. He paid a fine tribute to Rev. Mr. Braden and stated that the sincere best wishes of all club members for this future happiness and welfare in a distant state, would go with him.

The president also read a letter of deep appreciation and thanks from Mrs. Virginia Otis to the Rotary club for the flowers and expressions of condolence which had been sent following the recent death of her father, William M. Campbell, a loyal Rotarian.

Birthday greetings were sung for Emerson Warner who responded by making a contribution to the club's youth fund.

Rotarian visitors at this meeting were Rod B. Eckle of London; Richard Lind of Dayton, an executive of the Ohio Bell Telephone

Your School Report Card

By W. A. SMITH
(City School Superintendent)

Mrs. Gillespie's fifth graders at Rose Avenue School have been using the tape recorder to assist them in improving their reading.

Last week, each child made a recording of his reading and then the tape was played back so that he could hear his voice and criticize his own work.

The students discovered that they did not read distinctly, they mispronounced words, they repeated words, they lacked expression in fact; they were all very frank in saying that they were disappointed in their performances.

A discussion was held concerning ways by which they could improve their oral reading. It was decided to try out some of these ways. Another story was assigned to be read this week. It was to be taken home and studied in preparation for reading orally.

Monday, another recording was made and a great deal of improvement was noted. Perhaps some of the "Mike Fright" had worn off but probably most of the improvement was due to planned study, both silently and orally, of their work.

New Officers Announced For Rotary Club

Colombian Student From OSU, Speaker At Tuesday Meeting

Robert Lisk, present vice-president, will be the new president of the Washington Rotary Club beginning the first week in July. Other new officers are Robert Haigler, vice-president; Joseph W. Campbell, secretary and B. M. Marlin, treasurer.

Announcement of the new group of officers, recently named by the board of trustees, was made at the Tuesday luncheon of the club at the Country Club by President Paul Dougherty.

THE SPEAKER for the day introduced by Atty. Rollo Marchant of the March program committee was Mr. Marco A. Arenas from Colombia, South America. He is one of 109 students from 29 different countries of the world who are sent to various countries to study by the Rotary Foundation. He received his bachelor's degree in education from The National University of Colombia and is working on his master's degree at Ohio State University. From OSU he intends to return to Colombia where he will complete work towards receiving a doctor's degree and then enter into the teaching profession.

Arenas, a very genial young man, extended greetings from the Rotary Clubs of Colombia to the Rotary members present and expressed his appreciation for the privilege of being present since it was only through the efforts of the many different local clubs that he was able to attend school in this country.

HE TOLD his audience that Colombia was a country that loved the democratic way of life and that during the last Korean conflict Colombia was the only South American country to send troops to assist the United Nations forces. Colombia considers the attack on South Korea an attack on her own way of life and felt that it was her responsibility to do what she could to protect that way of life, the speaker said.

Mountain ranges complicate the topography of Colombia and divide the country into distinct regions of valleys, plateaus, plains and jungle-forests. These features account for the huge variety of climates, vegetation and cultivated crops there.

Since prehistoric times, the Colombian lands have been a crossroad in the Western hemisphere. Before the time of Columbus it was the forced route for the expansion of many ethnic groups; during the colonial period immigrants came from all the Spanish Empire, along with many African slaves. Presently, more than twelve and a half million inhabitants, mostly rural workers, are living on the 439,553 square miles of the country.

The Colombian population developed from a mixture of races. About 20 percent of the people are of the white race, 2 percent are Indians, 4 percent are negroes, and 74 percent are what is called mestizo which is a mixture of white and Indian.

CATHOLICISM is the official religion of Colombia with the Catholic Church contributing greatly in the development of the country and playing an important part in the development of education. There are two Catholic Universities with colleges located in Bogota and Medellin. There are 1,151 schools for elementary and secondary education with 8,862 teachers and 168,275 pupils. Theoretically education is compulsory but due to the lack of facilities and teachers all children do not attend school. The government of Colombia and the church are supporting radio broadcasts for adult education.

Due to the difficult terrain of the country much of the travel is either by air or railway. The roads are poor and are used primarily for the transportation of agriculture produce and raw materials.

ARENAS brought with him several articles of Colombia dress and some of the more common articles carried by the Colombian farmer when he goes to the city to sell his produce.

He showed the Rotarians a pancho that the typical native would wear and also a carriel which is a large leather pouch which the farmer wears to town and in which he carries all the necessary belongings he will need while in the city such as money, cigarettes, matches, etc. Every boy in Colombia looks forward to the time when he will have a carriel of his own.

He also showed copies of magazines and newspapers that had been sent to him from his homeland since he came to the United States; he passed them around among his hearers for all to see.

In closing his program Mr. Arenas played several phonograph records from his country the last of which was the National Anthem of Colombia.

President Dougherty profusely congratulated the speaker when he concluded his remarks and told him that the Rotarians present now were informed about 100 percent better about Colombia than ever before.

PREVIOUS TO the main feature of the program President Dougherty called attention to the fact that this probably was the last meeting of the local club which one of its valued members would be able to attend and mentioned that this member, Rev. Harold Braden, was leaving soon for the church to which he had been called as pastor in the West, at Estes Park, Colorado. He paid a fine tribute to Rev. Mr. Braden and stated that the sincere best wishes of all club members for this future happiness and welfare in a distant state, would go with him.

The president also read a letter of deep appreciation and thanks from Mrs. Virginia Otis to the Rotary club for the flowers and expressions of condolence which had been sent following the recent death of her father, William M. Campbell, a loyal Rotarian.

Birthday greetings were sung for Emerson Warner who responded by making a contribution to the club's youth fund.

Rotarian visitors at this meeting were Rod B. Eckle of London; Richard Lind of Dayton, an executive of the Ohio Bell Telephone

Churches Set Easter Series

Methodist Circuit Services Planned

A series of special Easter and pre-Easter services have been arranged for the Bloomingburg, Staunton and Madison Mills Methodist Circuit churches, under the charge of Rev. Herbert H. Ricketts.

Community Good Friday services will be held at the Bloomingburg Methodist Church, with the Bloomingburg Presbyterian Church participating. Dr. Paul Elliott, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will assist Rev. Ricketts in the combined service.

Rev. Ricketts will give a "portrait sermon" on "Christ on the Cross" at that time.

All three churches in the Bloomingburg Methodist charge will have sunrise and mid-morning services. The sunrise services are sponsored by youth groups at the three churches.

At Staunton the sunrise service is planned for 6:30 A. M. with Easter breakfast to follow. The young married couples at the church are handling the early services.

Company, and Walter Gray and Dr. Walter Felsom of Greenfield. Another guest was Harold Hale of Dayton who was with Robert Lisk.

AT 9 A. M. THE Staunton Easter worship services will be held, with Sunday School at 10 A. M.

Sunrise services and breakfast at Bloomingburg, sponsored by the Methodist Youth Fellowship group there, will be held at 6:30 A. M. also.

Easter worship with special music will be held 10 A. M. at the Bloomingburg Church. Sunday School will be at 11 A. M.

The Madison Mills Methodist Youth Fellowship is sponsoring a 6 A. M. sunrise service and breakfast, with the theme "Climax of God's Drama." A series of talks will be given by members of the organization.

Sunday School is scheduled for 10 A. M. with Easter worship service at 11 A. M. Special Easter music will be provided.

Kefauver Victory Unwelcome To Many Dems

There is apparently nation-wide talk about the more or less "surprise" victory of Senator Estes Kefauver over Adlai Stevenson in the Minnesota Democratic primary election for delegates to the Democratic national convention.

Many political observers seem to be "sold" on the idea that this defeat of Stevenson will weaken him to the point that his nomination as the Democratic candidate for the presidency is practically doomed.

At the same time there are many of the alleged "expert" analysts who contend that this situation also seriously, if not fatally, weakens the Democratic chances in the coming November elections.

It was generally regarded that Stevenson was the best Democratic prospect and potentially the party's strongest candidate throughout the country. It is still too early to determine whether Stevenson is being eliminated as he still can make a strong "come-back" but such things as this Minnesota primary often have been a turning point that changes the whole picture materially.

At the same time there is a lot of talk that Kefauver is far from a desirable Democratic candidate. One writer referred to this situation as a "tragedy that he (Stevenson) was defeated by a political zombie whose chances of nomination are poor and whose chances of election are virtually nil".

Again this brings into the general Democratic picture the talk that the best bet for a Democratic nomination, and possibly the strongest man being mentioned, might be Gov. Lausche of Ohio, who seems to be considered by numerous leading Democrats, especially in southern states, to be the type who would be considered by the country as an able official of the independent type who would offer Democrats their best opportunity for victory.

Lausche, however, is not favored by the big labor leaders who seem to have a strong hold on the Democratic organization and may prove a deciding influence at the Democratic national convention. There is just a chance that he may get into this "spotlight" at convention time.

Among the union big brass Kefauver is regarded as a very weak substitute for that true-blue liberal Averell Harriman, of New York, the wealthy playboy of Democratic politics, who, like former president Truman, can be counted upon to play the Labor Union game up to the hilt. Most political prophets, however, are not seriously considering Harriman.

The rural Minnesotans who voted for Kefauver were not voting for a presidential candidate, or perhaps even a candidate for Presidential nomination. They were voting for the underdog opposed by the state's Democratic bigwigs, including Gov. Orville Freeman and Sen. Hubert Humphrey, who are Fair Dealers of deeper hue than Kefauver ever was. The latter's promise of 100 percent parity on farm price supports probably was not taken seriously, though it gave farmers a chance to vote against Stevenson's proposal.

Still another question which is bothering Democrats is the decidedly independent stand of southern states on the racial segregation issue. That in itself is a threat of a breakaway by southern Democrats from delivery of a big block of southern state votes. This also could be fatal to the Democratic candidate.

Oil-Soaked Leap Year Find

NEW YORK (AP) — This being Leap Year, ladies, I thought you might like to know about a particular bachelor with an unusual story.

His name is Martin Lerman. He is 25, tall, slim, dark and handsome, with an engaging personality, which is an important part of his story, and, for a young fellow just getting started, his prospects look pretty bright.

He owns an oil company. Now they tell me it is always a good idea to get a man talking (a) about himself and (b) about his work. And if a girl can come in here and there with a knowledgeable comment, so much the better. So here is young Mr. Lerman's story.

He was a sophomore at Washington U. in St. Louis when, during the Christmas holidays of 1952, his father entertained at dinner. One of the guests was a Greek, a former resident of Athens. He began talking about oil.

He told about the island of Zante, in the Ionian Sea, where perhaps the oldest producing oil field in the world is located. The historians, Pliny and Herodotus, described the lake of pitch which is there. It may be that the ships that carried the Greek army to Troy to rescue fair Helen were calked with pitch from Zante. They probably used it, too, for their fearsome siege weapon, "Greek fire."

"I was fascinated," Lerman says. He went back to college but he didn't do much studying, that is, on his classroom subjects. He began reading about oil. He wrote to Greece for information about Zante. His geology professor helped him understand the technical terms.

That was the end of his regular college days. He had planned to study business law and perhaps join his father's machinery and steel-brokerage firm in St. Louis.

Instead, at 21, he left college, determined to drill for oil on Zante.

The obstacles were enormous, he said. The Greeks themselves were not interested in developing the ancient field. They were not interested, either, in agreements with any foreign firms to develop it for them.

Lerman said Greece spends about $30 million a year on oil and oil products

By Relman Morin

(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

now. Even so, no Greeks were thinking seriously about Zante.

It took him more than three years, but now he has the agreements with the Greek government and the leases on Zante.

He went to Greece and began knocking on official doors. The American embassy helped, he said. He ingratiated himself with Greek government officials and with people on Zante. He is learning the language.

Was his youth any handicap? He looks boyish.

"No," he said. "The important thing was to convince them that I was sincere about this, and could raise the money, and that we could work together. Once that was done, the contracts were signed."

He leaves for Zante and will stay until the drilling is fully under way.

Marriage? "I'm all for it," he said, "but I've been too busy the last few years."

Well, there you are, girls. Start reading up on commercial crudes, asphalt bases, specific gravity, and BTUs. They tell me Zante is a nice place for a honeymoon.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
As a rule, a single vaccination won't protect you or your children from smallpox for life. So don't be lulled into a false sense of security just because you or your youngsters were vaccinated once years ago.

And the simple fact that you were vaccinated is no sign that you were given an immunity to this dread disease. If the vaccination didn't "take", it probably didn't do you any good.

First Vaccination
Evidence that the vaccination has been effective is noted between the fifth and seventh days and for the first vaccination and within 24 to 48 hours for re-vaccinations.

During the first three days following a successful primary vaccination, the site will become reddened and irritating.

A papule or pimple will form between the third and fifth day and will become blistered between the fifth and seventh day. A dry scab will form on about the tenth day and soon drop off leaving only a tiny scar.

Speedier Process
In the case of second or third vaccinations, the process is speedier with the papule appearing within the second or third day.

There are various reasons why a vaccination might not take. Maybe the glycerinated calf lymph used might have deteriorated and become inactive. Maybe the doctor's technique was faulty. Or perhaps the site selected for the vaccination has been frequently used in the past and has become refractory.

Congress planned George Washington's tomb in the Capitol, but relatives rejected the proposal.

Single Vaccination Won't Last Lifetime

If the vaccination does not take, it's best to repeat it in about two weeks.

Severe Reaction

Seldom is there a severe reaction if the vaccination is performed before the age of six months. In an adult, however, complications are more serious.

Now about this matter of length of immunity. Minimal vaccination, in which the scar is kept to a minimum, may not give immunity of more than several years or even longer.

Doctors as a rule advise that children especially should be re-vaccinated every six years. If smallpox breaks out in your community, an unlikely occurrence these days, everyone should be vaccinated immediately.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
Mrs. F. H.: While I was pregnant, I got brown spots all over my face. Can these be eliminated?

Answer: Brown spots are due to excessive pigmentation. Often these spots may be bleached out by the use of such ointments as ammoniated mercury.

However, this should be done by a physician since there is danger in the use of bleaching ointments.

This condition is not due to any trouble with the liver.

Kefauver Victory Unwelcome To Many Dems

There is apparently nation-wide talk about the more or less "surprise" victory of Senator Estes Kefauver over Adlai Stevenson in the Minnesota Democratic primary election for delegates to the Democratic national convention.

Many political observers seem to be "sold" on the idea that this defeat of Stevenson will weaken him to the point that his nomination as the Democratic candidate for the presidency is practically doomed.

At the same time there are many of the alleged "expert" analysts who contend that this situation also seriously, if not fatally, weakens the Democratic chances in the coming November elections.

It was generally regarded that Stevenson was the best Democratic prospect and potentially the party's strongest candidate throughout the country. It is still too early to determine whether Stevenson is being eliminated as he still can make a strong "come-back" but such things as this Minnesota primary often have been a turning point that changes the whole picture materially.

At the same time there is a lot of talk that Kefauver is far from a desirable Democratic candidate. One writer referred to this situation as a "tragedy that he (Stevenson) was defeated by a political zombie whose chances of nomination are poor and whose chances of election are virtually nil".

Again this brings into the general Democratic picture the talk that the best bet for a Democratic nomination, and possibly the strongest man being mentioned, might be Gov. Lausche of Ohio, who seems to be considered by numerous leading Democrats, especially in southern states, to be the type who would be considered by the country as an able official of the independent type who would offer Democrats their best opportunity for victory.

Lausche, however, is not favored by the big labor leaders who seem to have a strong hold on the Democratic organization and may prove a deciding influence at the Democratic national convention. There is just a chance that he may get into this "spotlight" at convention time.

Among the union big brass Kefauver is regarded as a very weak substitute for that true-blue liberal Averell Harriman, of New York, the wealthy playboy of Democratic politics, who, like former president Truman, can be counted upon to play the Labor Union game up to the hilt. Most political prophets, however are not seriously considering Harriman.

The rural Minnesotans who voted for Kefauver were not voting for a presidential candidate, or perhaps even a candidate for Presidential nomination. They were voting for the underdog opposed by the state's Democratic bigwigs, including Gov. Orville Freeman and Sen. Hubert Humphrey, who are Fair Dealers of deeper hue than Kefauver ever was. The latter's promise of 100 percent parity on farm price supports probably was not taken seriously, though it gave farmers a chance to vote against Stevenson's proposal.

Still another question which is bothering Democrats is the decidedly independent stand of southern states on the racial segregation issue. That in itself is a threat of a breakaway by southern Democrats from delivery of a big block of southern state votes. This also could be fatal to the Democratic candidate.

Oil-Soaked Leap Year Find

NEW YORK (AP) — This being Leap Year, ladies, I thought you might like to know about a particular bachelor with an unusual story.

His name is Martin Lerman. He is 25, tall, slim, dark and handsome, with an engaging personality, which is an important part of his story, and, for a young fellow just getting started, his prospects look pretty bright.

He owns an oil company. Now they tell me it is always a good idea to get a man talking (a) about himself and (b) about his work. And if a girl can come in here and there with a knowledgeable comment, so much the better. So here is young Mr. Lerman's story.

He was a sophomore at Washington U. in St. Louis when, during the Christmas holidays of 1952, his father entertained at dinner. One of the guests was a Greek, a former resident of Athens. He began talking about oil.

He told about the island of Zante, in the Ionian Sea, where perhaps the oldest producing oil field in the world is located. The historians, Pliny and Herodotus, described the lake of pitch which is there. It may be that the ships that carried the Greek army to Troy to rescue fair Helen were calked with pitch from Zante. They probably used it, too, for their fearsome siege weapon, "Greek fire."

"I was fascinated," Lerman says. He went back to college but he didn't do much studying, that is, on his classroom subjects. He began reading about oil. He wrote to Greece for information about Zante. His geology professor helped him understand the technical terms.

That was the end of his regular college days. He had planned to study business law and perhaps join his father's machinery and steel-brokerage firm in St. Louis.

Instead, at 21, he left college, determined to drill for oil on Zante.

The obstacles were enormous, he said. The Greeks themselves were not interested in developing the ancient field. They were not interested, either, in agreements with any foreign firms to develop it for them. Lerman said Greece spends about $30 million a year on oil and oil products

now. Even so, no Greeks were thinking seriously about Zante.

It took him more than three years, but now he has the agreements with the Greek government and the leases on Zante.

He went to Greece and began knocking on official doors. The American embassy helped, he said. He ingratiated himself with Greek government officials and with people on Zante. He is learning the language.

Was his youth any handicap? He looks boyish.

"No," he said. "The important thing was to convince them that I was sincere about this, and could raise the money, and that we could work together. Once that was done, the contracts were signed."

He leaves for Zante and will stay until the drilling is fully under way.

Marriage? "I'm all for it," he said, "but I've been too busy the last few years."

Well, there you are, girls. Start reading up on commercial crudes, asphalt bases, specific gravity, and BTUs. They tell me Zante is a nice place for a honeymoon.

about unsuitable candidates. I once voted for Roger Babson for president because he wore whiskers which I found a better reason than voting for either Franklin D. Roosevelt or Wendell Willkie.

This year, there is an element of danger in abstention from voting for the Republicans, but this is not so much a matter of conscience as that many will believe that as Eisenhower cannot be defeated, they might as well play golf on election day. I fear we pay too much attention to the presidency and not enough to Congress which, in our political system, is more important. About one-third of the Senate and the whole of the House of Representatives will be elected in 1956 and the citizens ought to give Congress a great deal of thought.

I find such senators among Republicans as well as Democrats and from my standpoint what is wrong with them is that they sacrifice the best interests of the United States for what must be a temporary popularity. They are fashion-conscious senators, who are now for rock and roll as they were for swing and before that jazz, to use a figure of speech. They switch and change for a headline in the newspapers. Such men exist in the public life of a free, competitive society at all times, but usually the people wise up to them and defeat them. 1956 is a good year for that.

Right To Abstain From Voting

It comes up every time there is an election. Somebody hammers the drums and the tambourines to get out the vote. That used to be the job of the politicians, to ring door-bells, to provide transportation and in my childhood, even to pay $2 or $3 per vote. Today, the get-out-the-vote business is a public enterprise, engaged in by worthy citizens who proclaim themselves non-partisan.

The idea is to make the citizen who abstains from voting ashamed of himself, even though his conscience might bother him if he voted because he felt he could not choose between two demagogues, or two men of low moral character, or two crooks; or two bums.

Of course, one can be fashionable, go into the voting booth, stay a few seconds, come out again after having made a loud noise like voting. Under such circumstances, one can vote or not vote and yet avoid having an accusing person-on-television ask: "What kind of an American are you?"

In my state, it often happens that it is impossible for a conscientious American to make a choice. For instance, we may in 1956 have as candidates for the United States Senate, Herbert Lehman on the Democratic ticket and Jacob Javits on the Republican ticket. I could not vote for either. It would worry me to know that I cast a vote to help perpetrate either of these men. So if they run, I shall not vote for a United States Senator.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

As a rule, a single vaccination won't protect you or your children from smallpox for life. So don't be lulled into a false sense of security just because your or your youngsters were vaccinated once years ago.

And the simple fact that you were vaccinated is no sign that you were given an immunity to this dread disease. If the vaccination didn't "take", it probably didn't do you any good.

First Vaccination

Evidence that the vaccination has been effective is noted between the fifth and seventh days and for the first vaccination and within 24 to 48 hours for revaccinations.

During the first three days following a successful primary vaccination, the site will become reddened and irritating. A papule or pimple will form between the third and fifth day and will become blistered between the fifth and seventh day. A dry scab will form on about the tenth day and soon drop off leaving only a tiny scar.

Speedier Process

In the case of second or third vaccinations, the process is speedier with the papule appearing within the second or third day.

There are various reasons why a vaccination might not take. Maybe the glycerinated calf lymph used might have deteriorated and become inactive. Maybe the doctor's technique was faulty. Or perhaps the site selected for the vaccination has been frequently used in the past and has become refractory.

Single Vaccination Won't Last Lifetime

If the vaccination does not take, it's best to repeat it in about two weeks.

Severe Reaction

Seldom is there a severe reaction if the vaccination is performed before the age of six months. In an adult, however, complications are more serious.

Now about this matter of length of immunity. Minimal vaccination, in which the scar is kept to a minimum, may not give immunity of more than several years or even longer.

Doctors as a rule advise that children especially should be re-vaccinated every six years. If smallpox breaks out in your community, an unlikely occurrence these days, everyone should be vaccinated immediately.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. F. H.: While I was pregnant, I got brown spots all over my face. Can these be eliminated?

Answer: Brown spots are due to excessive pigmentation. Often these spots may be bleached out by the use of such ointments as ammoniated mercury.

However, this should be done by a physician since there is danger in the use of bleaching ointments.

This condition is not due to any trouble with the liver.

Mrs. Loudner Honors Mother On Birthday

Mrs. Joe F. Loudner entertained at a dinner party Tuesday evening, honoring the birthday anniversary of her mother, Mrs. Charles H. Bryant.

The delicious meal was served at a table centered with an arrangement of yellow jonquils.

Following a delightful dinner hour, the honor guest was presented with a gift from the guests and also a beautiful corsage from her daughter and family.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing canasta and at the close of play, Mrs. M. J. Whitfield was presented with the high score award.

The guests included were Mrs. Whitfield, Mrs. George Worrell, Mrs. Morris Baker, Mrs. Alma Carman and Mrs. Fathie Pearce.

Blue Birds Hold Meeting

The regular weekly meeting of the Cheery Blue Bird group of Cherry Hill School met at the school with eighteen members and their leaders, Mrs. Jerry Grundies and Mrs. Harold Allen present. The girls worked on coloring and personalizing Easter eggs during the afternoon under the supervision of their leaders.

The small hostess, Patty Patrick, served light refreshments suggestive of the Easter Season.

The girls planned to meet at the Burke Monument Company, Monday, April 2 at 1:30 to attend the Fayette Theater, in a body.

New Officers Are Elected By Club Members

Members of the Wayne Home Demonstration Club enjoyed an all day meeting at Wayne Hall, Good Hope.

The morning session presided over by the vice president, Mrs. Lucy Eckle, was devoted to the reorganizing of the club and Mrs. Eckle, also gave a most interesting talk on nutrition which is the project of the month.

Plans were made for participation in the annual Achievement Day, made up of Fayette County clubs, and the assignment for the club was stage decorations, with Mrs. Everett Rife and Mrs. Wilbur D. Hoppes, appointed as the committee to be in charge of the assignment.

A delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed at the noon hour and the afternoon meeting was opened with election of officers which resulted in Mrs. Wilbur D. Hoppes, being chosen as president, Mrs. Everett Rife, vice president and Mrs. Frank Swan, secretary-treasurer.

Following the business session the members were engaged in the work on ceramics.

Members present were: Mrs. Lucy Eckle, Mrs. Floyd Rea, Mrs. Frank Lanum, Mrs. Tom Braden, Mrs. Frank Swan and Mrs. Wash Lough.

WTH Class Holds Meeting At Wieland Home

Mrs. Ray Wieland entertained nine members of the WTH. Class of McNair Memorial Presbyterian Church, Tuesday evening, for the regular meeting.

Mrs. Homer Scott had charge of the devotionals, reading the Easter Story found in the book of Luke. The reading was followed by the praying of The Lord's Prayer.

The president, Mrs. Naomi Reif, conducted the business meeting. Reports of the various committees were given and a rummage sale was planned to be held in the church basement on April 28.

Tentative plans for the annual Mother and Daughter Banquet were discussed and will be held in the Fayette Grange Hall on May 15th.

During the social hour a clever "Comic" contest was promoted by the hostess with Mrs. Martin O'Call and Mrs. Naomi Reif receiving favors.

Delicious refreshments were served and Mrs. Wieland was assisted by Mrs. Ed Richardson.

African violets which is a hobby of Mrs. Wieland were used for decoration. The April meeting will be held with Mrs. Joseph Campbell.

Little Girl One Year Old Jan. 27

Jan Elizabeth Kirkpatrick

This darling little blonde girl, is Jan Elizabeth Kirkpatrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kirkpatrick, of New Holland.

Jan Elizabeth was one year old January 27 and she has two older brothers, Billy and Roger.

Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ansel W. Kirkpatrick Sr., of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Russell S. Ebert of New Holland.

Great-grandparents are Mrs. Ed. Speasmaker of London, and Mrs. Fred Ebert of New Holland.

Evening Party Is Entertained By Mrs. Cochran

Mrs. Bruce Cochran entertained at an evening card party at her home in Mt. Sterling and included as guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Towler, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hardin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Stoer of Five Points, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pendleton, Mr.

and Mrs. John Riddle of Mt. Sterling and Mr. Morris Painter of Columbus.

Personals

Lieut. and Mrs. Paul Sautter are guests at the home of Mrs. Sautter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Riegel for a two weeks visit. Lieut. Sautter has just completed F-89 All Weather Interceptor training at Moody Air Force Base, Valdosta, Georgia, and is enroute to his assignment with the 438th Fighter Squadron, at Kinross Air Force Base, in Michigan. During his assignment there they will reside at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan.

Mr. Paul Loudner and son, Paul Jr. of Cincinnati and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Loudner of Columbus arrived Tuesday evening, called here by the serious illness of their father, Mr. Frank Loudner.

Mrs. Lowell Smith and children, Steven and Coby Ann, of Hudson, are spending this week with Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Harold Craig. Mr. Smith will join them for an Easter weekend visit.

Mrs. Arthur G. Burgett returned Wednesday morning to her home in Cleveland Heights after a visit at the home of Mrs. Walter Ellis.

Mrs. Frank S. Jackson has returned from Hillsboro where she spent the past few days as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Aubin Hedges, Mr. Hedges and their family.

Church Society Meets With Mrs. Yoakum

Mrs. Ted Yoakum and Mrs. Charles Buxton were co-hostesses at the home of Mrs. Yoakum Tuesday evening for the regular meeting of the Ann Judson Missionary Circle of First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Burdette Johnson, president, called the meeting to order and offered prayer which was followed with roll call responded to by eleven members, and the advisor, Mrs. John Case.

The devotions were in charge of Mrs. Calvin Oty and Mrs. Mary Chinn, and included an article "Impressions From Past and Present" read by Mrs. Oty, Scripture reading from the Book of John and First Corinthians and the closing prayer by Mrs. Chinn.

The White Cross report was given by Mrs. Calvin Oty and the Love Gift Chairman, Mrs. Howard Ault read an article entitled "The Modern Mustard Seed" and offered prayer.

The usual reports were given and approved and the program was in charge of the president who used a her subject "Salvation, What Then" during which the members joined in a discussion.

Mrs. Buxton closed the meeting with prayer and during the social hour tempting refreshments were served.

Class Members Hold Regular Monthly Meeting

Mrs. Frank Reno, president, conducted the meeting of the Shepherd's Bible Class of First Baptist Church which was held at the home of Mrs. Violet Edmonson.

The usual reports were heard and approved and twenty-five members responded to roll call and reported 61 calls made during the past month on ill and shut-in members of the church.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hurt led in the devotionals using as her subject, "Easter Facts Or Fancy" for an interesting reading and Rev. Norman D. Renn offered prayer.

The program was in charge of Miss Mabel Briggs, who was assisted in the reading of articles under the titles of "Reflected Glory" by Mrs. Howard Burnett; "Eighteenth Amendment Bible Seal Campaign" by Mrs. Charles Hurt, and "A Family Easter" by Mrs. Lora Penwell.

Mrs. Norman Renn led in prayer to close the program and during the social hour Mrs. Edmonson was assisted in the serving of a delicious dessert course by Mrs. Everett Arnold, Mrs. Charles Hurt and Mrs. Clyde Graves.

Kensington Club Enjoys Special Social Event

Mrs. John B. Morton, Sr., was hostess to twelve members of the Tuesday Kensington Club at the annual winter indoors picnic, which is a tradition of the club.

The open fire in the recreation room, added to the cheerful surroundings and the delicious meal was served at one long table with a most unusual oblong centerpiece of a coconut spathe used as a watergarden for floating white carnations and magnolia leaves around a cluster of spring flowers.

The dessert course featured a miniature silver flower pot tied with pastel ribbon bows, filled with ice cream topped with a cluster of miniature Easter lilies and greenery which were also favors.

The afternoon was spent in sewing for Memorial Hospital which is a project recently adopted.

Sprinkle cubes of boneless lamb shoulder with grated onion, minced garlic and oregano. Let stand for a couple of hours before threading on skewers and broiling.

Saint Andrew's Services Set Up

12-Hour Prayer Vigil To Be Held Thursday

Services for the final days of Holy Week have been scheduled for St. Andrew's Episcopal Church on Highland Avenue at the southern edge of the city.

For Maundy Thursday, in commemoration of the Last Supper and Institution of Holy Communion, there is to be a continuous prayer vigil from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night.

This service is based on a half-hour schedule with some man or woman of the parish taking his, or her, place at the altar to keep the chain of prayer and meditation unbroken for the 12-hour period.

Worshippers may come and go during the 12-hour prayer vigil, a spokesman for the Vestry said. The church, it was stressed, "will be open at all times of day to anyone wanting to spend some time in quiet devotion there."

On Good Friday, the Cross is to hang above the altar, stripped and laid bare during those hours in which Christ suffered agony and death on the Cross.

The 7:30 o'clock Friday evening service of Evening Prayer, with the recited Litany and followed by a meditation, is to be conducted by Emmett C. Smith, of Bexley Hall Divinity School of Kenyon College.

The Festival of the Resurrection, with the celebration of Holy Communion, is to be held at 10 o'clock Easter Morning. Rev. Stanley Platenburg is to be the guest rector and special Easter music by the choir will be under the direction of Mrs. Harford Hankins, Jr. This will include the anthem, "Greater Love and Triumphant Lord" from "The Man from Nazareth," by Rogers.

At the close of the Easter service, there is to be a coffee hour in the Parish Hall of the church to give the parishioners and guests an opportunity to get better acquainted and visit informally for a time. The coffee hour, the Vestry spokesman said, also will provide the time and the place to talk with the visiting rector.

Presbyterians Plan Holy Week Services

Holy Week plans at the Bloomington Presbyterian Church include "The Lord's Supper," a communion to be held at the church at 7:30 P. M. Thursday; Good Friday services at the same hour Friday, and three worship meetings on Easter Sunday.

First of the three services on Easter will be a special sunrise service at 6:30 A. M., to be followed by an Easter breakfast served by the United Fellowship Class. Sunday School is to be at 9:45 A. M. and the church service at 11 A. M.

Features of the 11 A. M. service will include baptism of infants, special music and the quarterly Communion service.

Thursday evening's communion is open to all, announced Dr. Paul Elliott, pastor of the church.

Washington C. H. Man Is Given Promotion

Joseph F. Provost, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Provost, 739 Broadway, has been promoted to private first class at Fort Riley, Kan., where he is a member of the 1st Infantry Division.

The "Big Red One" division returned to the U. S. in October 1953 after 13 years overseas.

Provost, a clerk in Headquarters Battery of the division's 7th Field Artillery Battalion, entered the Army in June 1955 and completed basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Newport R. I. claims it had the first street lighted by gas in the United States — in 1806.

THE PROMISE

The promise of life eternal
Is shown in many ways—
Budding of the trees in spring time,
After winter's cold days;
In the flowers that come forth
gaily,
From the cold, barren ground,
In the sunshine after darkness—
Is the Lord's promise found;
Then if we fulfill His wishes,
Obey His just commands—
We too will have life eternal,
When death, life here demands.

Jeffersonville MYF Plans Early Worship

Special Holy Week services at Jeffersonville Methodist Church will open with a Maundy Thursday Communion service at 8 P. M. Thursday.

Also scheduled for that service will be a showing of the color motion picture, "The Last Supper."

Easter Sunday observances will begin with a 6:30 sunrise service planned by the Jeffersonville Methodist Youth Fellowship. A breakfast will be served by the mothers of MYF members following the service.

Features of the early service will include special music sung by the congregation, a solo by Oliver Vannorsdall and a four-way discussion of the Easter story titled "The Climax of God's drama," with responsive readings by the congregation.

IN CHARGE of the sunrise service are MYF members Sara Sue a sermon entitled "No Condemnation" by Rev. Renn.

Davidson, Robert Rings, Joan Little, Nancy Allen, Beverly Sears, Oliver Vannorsdall and Roger Mason.

In charge of the breakfast arrangements are the table committee, headed by Pauline Davis; the serving committee, chaired by Martha Christopherson; and the kitchen committee, made up of members' mothers and headed by Mrs. Clyde Rings.

Morning services Easter will be held at 10:30 A. M. and will feature special music by the church choir, directed by Mrs. Wayne Dowler, and an Easter sermon by Rev. Norman D. Newman, pastor of the church.

Highlights of the musical program will include a solo by Mrs. Dowler, and choir music accompanied by Mrs. John Baird at the piano and Mrs. Wayne Hill at the organ.

Training Camp News Briefs

LAKELAND, Fla. (P)—Pitcher Pete Wojey, at 33 one of the oldest rookies in spring training, appears to have a better than even chance of sticking with the Detroit Tigers this season.

Wojey had a brief trial with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1954 and has been in organized ball since 1941. So far this spring he has been effective. He was assigned to another test today as the Tigers met the Philadelphia Phillies.

TAMPA, Fla. (P)—Vinegar Bend Mizell made a strong bid for an opening day assignment for the St. Louis Cardinals with a two-hit six-inning performance against the Milwaukee Braves Tuesday.

The Cardinals rallied to win the game, 2-1, for their seventh victory in the past eight games and 11th in 18 spring training starts.

BRADENTON, Fla. (P)—Manager Charlie Grimm said today he has three pitchers, Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette and Bob Buhl "who can do nine innings."

He based the statement on Burdette's work Tuesday when the tall righthander had a three-hitter in the works for five innings before losing to St. Louis, 2-1.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (P)—The Chicago Cubs are beginning to wonder if their big deal with the Brooklyn Dodgers last winter was a good one for the Cubs.

The Cubs sent third baseman Ransom Jackson and pitcher Don Elston to Brooklyn for outfielder Walt Moryn, third baseman Don Hoak and pitcher Russ Meyer.

Hoak, a reputed defensive wizard, committed five errors in as many exhibition games in one stretch and Meyer has been whacked for 16 runs in the 13 innings he has worked.

Only Moryn has come through, belting out five home runs and carrying a respectable .318 batting average.

TAMPA, Fla. (P)—Rookie right-hander Bill Fischer who won 5

and lost 15 at Memphis last year could become the pitching surprise the Chicago White Sox have been seeking this season.

Fischer strengthened his bid to make the staff Tuesday when he restricted the Boston Red Sox to four singles and one earned run in five innings.

The 25-year-old from Schofield, Wis., has yielded but two earned runs and 14 hits in 16 innings.

TUCSON, Ariz. (P)—Centerfielder Jim Busby is keeping pace in the home run race with Larry Doby.

In a winter trade the Cleveland Indians got Busby and shortstop Chico Carrasquel and the Chicago White Sox got Doby. Each has hit five homers in spring exhibition games.

Busby's latest blast came in the ninth inning Tuesday to give the Indians an 8-7 victory over Baltimore. The 29-year-old righthander has 10 hits in 33 times at bat for a respectable .303 average.

FORT MYERS, Fla. (P)—Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Cincinnati Redlegs says Charley Harmon is one of the key men in his flexible lineup this season.

Harmon has played first, second, short, third and the outfield in regular or exhibition games and is "a great asset with his versatility," Tebbetts said.

Howard King Agrees Moore Is A Champ

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (P)—Howard King will agree that Archie Moore is a world's champ.

The Reno heavyweight, for the second time within a month, took it on the chin, chest and every other legal spot last night, in a non-title fight that hardly had Moore, the lightweight titlist, sweating at the end of the 10th.

The champ, preparing for a June 5 London title defense against Yolande Pompey, has some sweating to do. He weighed in at 191, three pounds heavier than King. The lightweight limit is 175.

Byards Looks Good As Welterweight

BOSTON (P)—Walter Byards is a fast-rising welterweight. He defended his New England welter crown by knocking down Bobby Murphy five times for a technical knockout in the fifth round here last night.

Wily Walter, the local kid who has only 15 professional fights under his belt with 13 victories included, has given fellow-townsmen Murphy a sound boxing lesson minus knockdowns to take the championship five weeks earlier.

When middleweight Jackie LaBua fights he ties his wife's wedding ring to his right shoelace as a good luck charm.

Noll, McCormack Sign With Browns

CLEVELAND (P)—Linebacker Chuck Noll and tackle Mike McCormack have signed to play with the Cleveland Browns in the coming professional football season.

Noll, from the university of Dayton, was offensive right guard with the Browns for two years, but has shifted to left linebacker.

McCormack also had new duties last year, moving from middle guard to offensive right tackle.

Lightburn Favored In Cleveland Bout

CLEVELAND (P)—Those who feel they know enough about boxing to bet money on it were wagering today that the speed and experience of Ludwig Lightburn will prevail over the harder punching of L. C. Morgan in tonight's 10-rounder at the arena.

The 21-year-old lightweights are meeting here for the second time. Morgan was favored six months ago when he lost a split decision in an eight-rounder. Today the odds were 2-1 on Lightburn.

Two weeks ago Lightburn breezed to victory over Hoacine Khalfi of Algeria in a TV card at Madison Square Garden. He now has won seven straight.

Training Camp News Briefs

LAKELAND, Fla. (P)—Pitcher Pete Wojey, at 33 one of the oldest rookies in spring training, appears to have a better than even chance of sticking with the Detroit Tigers this season.

Wojey had a brief trial with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1954 and has been in organized ball since 1941. So far this spring he has been effective. He was assigned to another test today as the Tigers met the Philadelphia Phillies.

TAMPA, Fla. (P)—Vinegar Bend Mizell made a strong bid for an opening-day assignment for the St. Louis Cardinals with a two-hit six-inning performance against the Milwaukee Braves Tuesday.

The Cardinals rallied to win the game, 2-1, for their seventh victory in the past eight games and 11th in 18 spring training starts.

BRADENTON, Fla. (P)—Manager Charlie Grimm said today he has three pitchers, Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette and Bob Buhl "who can do nine innings."

He based the statement on Burdette's work Tuesday when the tall right-hander had a three-hitter in the works for five innings before losing to St. Louis, 2-1.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (P)—The Chicago Cubs are beginning to wonder if their big deal with the Brooklyn Dodgers last winter was a good one for the Cubs.

The Cubs sent third baseman Ransom Jackson and pitcher Don Elston to Brooklyn for outfielder Walt Moryn, third baseman Don Hoak and pitcher Russ Meyer.

Hoak, a reputed defensive wizard, committed five errors in as many exhibition games in one stretch and Meyer has been whacked for 16 runs in the 13 innings he has worked.

Only Moryn has come through, belting out five home runs and carrying a respectable .318 batting average.

TAMPA, Fla. (P)—Rookie right-hander Bill Fischer who won 5

and lost 15 at Memphis last year could become the pitching surprise the Chicago White Sox have been seeking this season.

Fischer strengthened his bid to make the staff Tuesday when he restricted the Boston Red Sox to four singles and one earned run in five innings.

The 25-year-old from Schofield, Wis., has yielded but two earned runs and 14 hits in 16 innings.

TUCSON, Ariz. (P)—Centerfielder Jim Busby is keeping pace in the home run race with Larry Doby.

In a winter trade the Cleveland Indians got Busby and shortstop Chico Carrasquel and the Chicago White Sox got Doby. Each has hit five homers in spring exhibition games.

Freeman Speaker at Banquet

Robin Freeman, ace Ohio State University basketball player and outstanding choice for all-American and a student to boot, was guest of honor Tuesday night at a basketball banquet at Good Hope High School.

Freeman returned from Kansas City, where the East-West basketball game was held, just in time to attend and speak at the Good Hope banquet. He also demonstrated his honor-winning style of play for the group.

Freeman shared attention during the evening with students at the high school who received basketball awards or took part in the program. The junior high cheerleaders and players, team managers and junior, reserve and varsity players all received awards.

In a talk before the gathering of a round 200 persons, Freeman stressed team spirit, fair play and sportsmanship.

Just five feet 11 inches tall himself, he stressed the importance of play and not height in basketball. He mentioned that at the East-West game there were seven players on the floor over seven feet tall.

HE ANSWERED questions from the floor, gave a short exhibition of shooting and handling the ball and passing and worked into a foul-shooting contest against 1956 Fayette County free-throw champion.

John McFadden, captain of the Good Hope basketball team.

FREEMAN PUT IN eight out of ten foul shots in the first round of the unexpected contest, while McFadden put in nine out of ten. Freeman then sank 25 shots in a row and was going for more when he was called to a halt.

Harold Thomas, high school principal, said Freeman was highly cooperative. He even went into a short shooting competition with the varsity players, he said.

The banquet started 6:30 P. M. but the All-American star did not arrive until 7. The plane from Kansas City was tied up for a while, he explained.

Freeman is due to tour the country in exhibition games with the College All-Stars and the Harlem Glove-Trotters. He told the Good Hope group he would fly from the basketball games back to OSU to keep up with his studies.

A pot luck supper preceded the banquet, which was sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Organization. Mothers of the senior players were in charge of the event, with a committee headed by Mrs. Jesse Linton and including Mrs. William McFadden, Mrs. Russell Taylor and Mrs. Henry Turner.

with a gift from the players, cheerleaders, managers and students.

Students taking part in the program before Freeman's talk were Carolyn Haggard and Trisha and Linda Jane Kellenberger.

Letters were awarded to reserve players Jim Butcher, Wilbur VanDyke, Stanley Smith, Norman Kimball, Garry Brown Robert Jenkins, George Garringer, Roger Osborne and Donald Strouth.

Varsity cheerleaders honored were Janet Anderson, Barbara Knisley, Jackie Heppes and Nancy McFadden.

Managers, who handled both reserve and varsity squads, were Raymond Smith, Michael Newman, Herman Day and Larry Kellenberger.

Phillies Sacker Catches Beanball

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies faced the prospect today of starting the National League pennant chase for the second consecutive year without the services of a key player, third baseman Willie Jones.

Jones was beaned by pitcher Don Newcomb of the Brooklyn Dodgers in an exhibition game yesterday and while X-rays showed no fracture, Willie faced a possible prolonged hospital stay.

Newcomb shouted, "Look out, Willie," but Jones couldn't get out of the way of what Newcomb said was "a fast ball that slipped out of my fingers."

Bill Jurges, Washington Senator coach, is responsible for the infield trial Jack Brandt received this spring. Jurges, while helping coach St. Louis Cardinal infielders, noticed how well Brandt fielded ground balls. Brandt was an outfielder at yesterday and while X-rays showed

Freeman Speaker at Banquet

Robin Freeman, ace Ohio State University basketball player and outstanding choice for all-American and a student to boot, was guest of honor Tuesday night at a basketball banquet at Good Hope High School.

Freeman returned from Kansas City, where the East-West basketball game was held, just in time to attend and speak at the Good Hope banquet. He also demonstrated his honor-winning style of play for the group.

Freeman shared attention during the evening with students at the high school who received basketball awards or took part in the program. The junior high cheerleaders and players, team managers and junior, reserve and varsity players all received awards.

In a talk before the gathering of around 200 persons, Freeman stressed team spirit, fair play and sportsmanship.

Just five feet 11 inches tall himself, he stressed the importance of play and not height in basketball. He mentioned that at the East-West game there were seven players on the floor over seven feet tall.

HE ANSWERED questions from the floor, gave a short exhibition of shooting and handling the ball and passing and worked into a foul-shooting contest against 1956 Fayette County free-throw champion

John McFadden, captain of the Good Hope basketball team.

FREEMAN PUT IN eight out of ten foul shots in the first round of the unexpected contest, while McFadden put in nine out of ten. Freeman then sank 25 shots in a row and was going for more when he was called to a halt.

Harold Thomas, high school principal, said Freeman was highly cooperative. He even went into a short shooting competition with the varsity players, he said.

The banquet started 6:30 P. M. but the All-American star did not arrive until 7. The plane from Kansas City was tied up for a while, he explained.

Freeman is due to tour the country in exhibition games with the College All-Stars and the Harlem Glove-Trotters. He told the Good Hope group he would fly from the basketball games back to OSU to keep up with his studies.

A pot luck supper preceded the banquet, which was sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Organization. Mothers of the senior players were in charge of the event, with a committee headed by Mrs. Jesse Linton and including Mrs. William McFadden, Mrs. Russell Taylor and Mrs. Henry Turner.

COACH Alexander Moore presented letters to the cheerleaders, managers and players. John McFadden presented Moore with a gift from the players, cheerleaders, managers and students.

Students taking part in the program before Freeman's talk were Carolyn Haggard and Trisha and Linda Jane Kellenberger.

Letters were awarded to reserve players Jim Butcher, Wilbur VanDyke, Stanley Smith, Norman Kimball, Garry Brown, Robert Jenkins, George Garringer, Roger Osborne and Donald Strouth.

Varsity cheerleaders honored were Janet Anderson, Barbara Kneisley, Jackie Hoppes and Nancy McFadden.

Managers, who handled both reserve and varsity squads, were Raymond Smith, Michael Newman, Herman Day and Larry Kellenberger.

2 Ohio Cagers Set For Olympic Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two basketball players who gained a lot of experience on Ohio courts have been named to the all-service team which will compete in the Olympic basketball finals at Kansas City next week.

They are Pfc. Al Bianchi, former Bowling Green University cager, and Lt. Bernie Janicki, an ex-Duke University and Akron Good-year star. Both are 6 foot 3.

The 14-man service team will take part in a tournament with the NCAA All-Stars, the AAU championship Buchanan Bakers of Seattle, Wash., and the AAU runnersup, the Phillips 66 Oilers.

5 big reasons why the really new Plymouth gives you more for your money than any other low-price car

1 You get exclusive Push-Button Driving

Touch a button—off you go! This positive mechanical control is the safest, easiest ever. Only Plymouth has it among low-price cars.

2 You get the biggest car in the low-price three

Inside and out, Plymouth is the "big boy" in its field. 17 feet long. Outmeasures the others in every important way. More room for all!

3 You get the only really new styling of the year

Don't let other low-price cars fool you with warmed-over '53, '54 and '55 models. Get the really new car—the all-new '56 Plymouth.

4 You get the greatest array of safety features

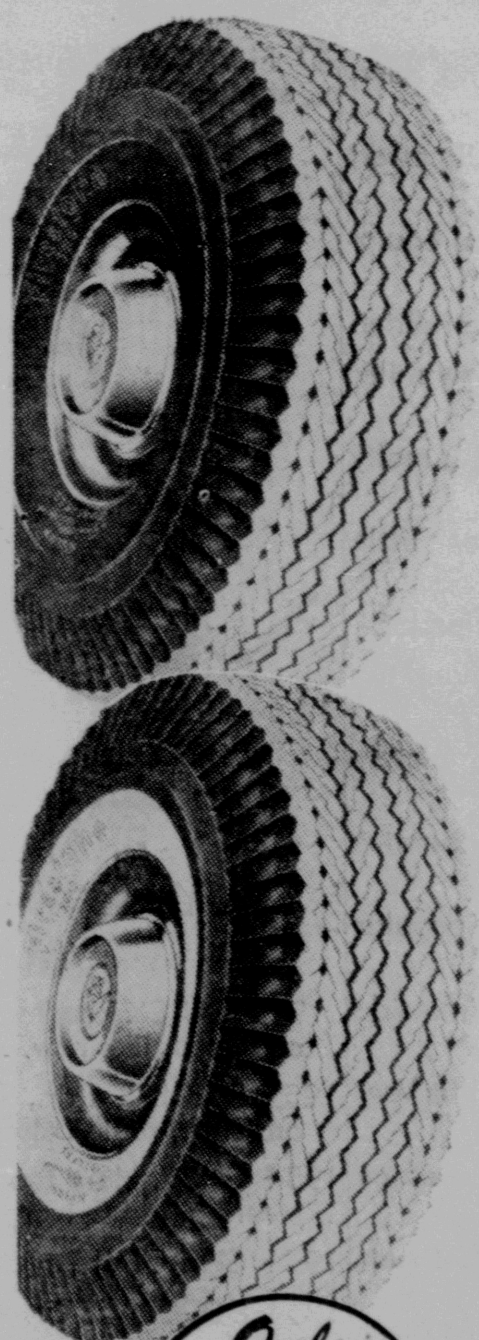

The "other 2" can't match Plymouth for safety. Only Plymouth offers Safety-Rim wheels, electric windshield wipers, 2-cylinder brakes.

5 You get the biggest deals around

Plymouth's value lead has sent sales soaring, enabling dealers to give you amazing deals. Come see how easy it is to own a big Plymouth.

Plymouth costs less

From the day you buy it...through all the years you own it...you'll spend less on a Plymouth. That's one reason more Plymouths are used as taxis than all other cars combined.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our grateful thanks and appreciation to everyone who assisted or helped us in any way during the sickness and death of our beloved daughter, Flora C. Payton. We wish to sincerely thank the hospital and Dr. Hancock and Dr. Reiff and nurses for their every effort in doing for her. Also the blood donors, Sheriff Hays, and the Sheriff of Franklin County.

Mr. & Mrs. Herman Payton
Brothers and Sisters
We miss thee, our darling, throughout the long day
And the eve we watch sadly, for thou art away
And we weep when we think that thy young life is over
And the hands that once knew thee, shall know thee no more.

Card of Thanks

Card of Thanks
We wish to express our grateful thanks and appreciation to everyone who assisted or helped us in any way during the sickness and death of our beloved daughter, Flora C. Payton.
We wish to sincerely thank the hospital and Dr. Hancock and Dr. Reiff and nurses for their every effort in doing for her. Also the blood donors, Sheriff Hays, and the Sheriff of Franklin County.
Mr. & Mrs. Herman Payton
Brothers and Sisters
We miss thee, our darling, throughout the long day.
And the eve we wait sadly, for thou art away.
And we weep when we think that thy young life is over,
And the hands that once knew thee, shall know thee no more.

Horsemen Here Guests of Lions

Matinee Races
Set For May 6

"Members of the Washington C. H. Lions Club and guests! Tonight we have as our guests a group of men who contribute more to the club than any other group. We are proud to have the horsemen of Fayette County with us." With these words, Dustin Gorton, president of the club, opened the regular meeting at the Country Club Tuesday evening.

Nineteen harness horsemen were present. These are the men who race their stables at the annual Lions Club matinee race program each spring. This year's program will be held Sunday, May 6, at the Fairgrounds here. All proceeds from the day's activities go to the Lions club sight-saving program to buy glasses and provide eye care for the needy of this area.

A highlight of the evening was the showing of movies in color of the 1955 Indianapolis Speedway Race, plus, two harness races won by Eddie Cobb at Yonkers Raceway, New York last fall.

Committee reports were given by John Breiner on the annual Minstrel Show staged last month. Breiner reported that a complete report would not be available until the next meeting because all receipts had not been turned in.

Breiner also reported that a Babe Ruth baseball league is rapidly taking shape. Present plans call for a four-team league to be made up of boys from 13 through 15 years of age. Sponsors will be the four Lions clubs in the county. They are, in addition to the Washington C. H. club, clubs at Jeffersonville, Bloomington and Good Hope.

RICHARD GILLEN, chairman of the Eye Conservation Committee reported that 29 eye cases have gone through the committee up to the present date, with a total of $648.58 paid from the treasury. Of the 29 two were hospitalized at Children's Hospital for operations for cross-eyes; 21 were for new glasses; most all were for school age children.

One exception was an old age pensioner who had used up all of her medical care allotment from the Division of Aid for the Aged. Five persons had repairs made to their glasses and one person's plastic eye was rebuilt. Also, $100 was contributed to the Ohio Lions Eye Research laboratory at Ohio State University.

Gillen also reported that three subscriptions for the Braille edition of Readers' Digest are now being sent to Carl Johnson, Mrs. Vesper Hick and William Font.

Guests at the meeting were Earl Rea, president of the Good Hope club, with John Breiner; Eugene Heath with Dustin Gorton and Dick Erdman a student at Kenyon College with his uncle Dr. Byers Shaw.

Dr. Shaw made the official "thank you" talk for the Memorial Hospital staff to the Lions Club for the Electro-Kardigraph donated to the hospital by the club.

John Sagar introduced the horsemen; he even threw in some "horse-play" with his introductions. He presented Dud Moon with a new drug to make his horses go faster, Eddie Cobb with a gold watch complete with a case and main spring that could have come out of an automobile seat and Harold Jones six-horse-size pills that would aid him in driving a straight course during a race.

Horsemen who stood and were warmly applauded by the Lions were Bob Strong, Ronnie Cornwell, Damon Baker, Paul (Slim) Norris, Barney Coe, John Barnes, McKinley Kirk, Wendell Kirk, Eddie Kirk, Gus Bonner, Buck Norris, Gene Bock, Frank Lanum, Al Rhoads, John Haxton, Moon, Jones, Cobb and his father Claire Cobb.

The next meeting of the club will be Tuesday evening April 10 when the members of the Washington C. H. High School basketball team will be guests. The speaker will be Coach Paul Walker of the champion Middletown team.

Courts

DIVORCE GRANTED

Shirley Shoemaker, a minor, has been granted a divorce from Harvey Shoemaker, on grounds of extreme cruelty and gross neglect of duty. Custody of their children was awarded to the plaintiff.

Judge John P. Case certified the case to the Juvenile Court to look after support funds for the children and plaintiff.

Unusually heavy rainfall, that came with a series of electrical storms, swept a large portion of Fayette County early Wednesday and the rain continued with little let-up well into the day.

Some thunder occurred late Tuesday, but the electrical disturbance early Wednesday was more severe and centered largely in the eastern half of the county.

During the heavy downpour between 7 and 8 A. M. Wednesday, storm sewers were flooded, and water stood many inches deep entirely across some of the streets until the overtaxed sewers could carry off the excess.

Small lakes were left standing in the fields in the path of the hardest of the rains and streams were raised sharply within a short time.

Up until 7 A. M. rainfall for the 24 hours totaled 2.2 of an inch, but within the next few hours after 7 A. M. the total for the 24 hour period was passed and rain was still falling.

Colder weather was expected for Wednesday night, with a mixture of weather scheduled for Thursday including possible snowflurries.

Final Tribute Paid
Harley Hamilton

Funeral services for Harley T. Hamilton were conducted at 1 P. M. Tuesday at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here by Rev. Arthur George.

The minister read the Scripture, offered prayer, delivered the funeral sermon and read an obituary that had been prepared by Mrs. George.

Mrs. George, playing her own accompaniment, sang the two hymns, "Beyond the Sunset," and "The Old Rugged Cross."

The pallbearers, who also cared for the flowers, were John Warner, Dan Warner, Emery Kemp, Elza Woodruff, Herman Sword and William Gardner.

Interment was in the Washington C. H.

Easter Plans At Grace Church

Communion, Sunrise
Services Scheduled

Holy Week services, including communion Thursday and duplicate Easter services Sunday morning, sunrise Easter services and union services Good Friday have been set at Grace Methodist Church here.

Rev. Dwight Nelson will be in charge of Maundy Thursday communion services, with Rev. W. S. Alexander and Philip Grover assisting. The communion will be from 7:30 to 8:30 P. M. Thursday.

Union Good Friday services will be 12 to 3 P. M.

The Easter sunrise services will be at 6:30 A. M. The senior Methodist Youth Fellowship will act as sponsors. Program for the sunrise services includes a hymn, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today," Scripture reading by Bob Crouse, prayer by Tom Swaim, talk and benediction by Philip Grover and another hymn, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory."

Frank Miller will serve as organist, with Philip French, Robert Montgomery, Larry Fisher, Douglas Rider, Roger Boswell and Robert Burris serving as ushers.

There will be duplicate worship services at 8 and 10:30 A. M. Rev. Edwin Dickey will preach a sermon entitled "Our Eternal Hope" at both services.

Racketeers Fined For 'Termite Control'

Five Hillsboro men were fined $100 and costs each and sentenced to 30 days in the Dayton Workhouse in Dayton Municipal Court on charges filed after they had overplayed their hands in a termite extermination racket.

They were identified as O. L. Brookman, Edward Abers, Jack Bennington and Carl and Glen Couch.

They were charged with working as termite exterminators without permits, and police indicate other charges are pending.

The five were arrested, Dayton police said, after a Dayton widow complained of having been fleeced out of a considerable sum to pay for an exterminator concoction which, it is claimed, was nothing more or less than fuel oil, purchased at 15 cents per gallon and sold for 17 per gallon.

They sold the woman quantities of the mixture twice and tried a third time before she notified police and brought about arrest of the group.

The five are said to have been the same group which fleeced another Dayton woman out of $490.

Charge Is Filed
Following Wreck

Following a collision with another car at the intersection of Court and Fayette Streets at 4:05 P. M. Tuesday, Harold D. Morrow, 18, of near Sabina, was arrested on a charge of reckless operation of a motor vehicle.

Morrow allegedly attempted to pass a car driven by Harvey C. Goens, city, at the intersection and collided with the Goen's car.

Junior Shepherd, city, was picked up on a charge of running a red light.

Marvin R. Frederick is facing a charge of driving with insufficient brakes.

Expect Rains Will
Wash Dust From Air

Rains are expected to wash western dust from the skies over Ohio during the next day or two. The worst and most widespread duststorms of the year swept wide areas in Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas Tuesday.

Choking, blinding dust storms raged most of the day over these states. Whipped by winds from the west, there was every reason to believe the dust would again be carried into Ohio, as it was recently when the raindrops left reddish mud splatters wherever they struck.

Usually it requires 18 to 30 hours for the dust to reach this part of Ohio. During recent years the area has been dusted dozens of times from the "dust bowl" of the western states.

Horsemen Here Guests of Lions

Matinee Races
Set For May 6

"Members of the Washington C. H. Lions Club and guests! Tonight we have as our guests a group of men who contribute more to the club than any other group. We are proud to have the horsemen of Fayette County with us." With these words, Dustin Gorton, president of the club, opened the regular meeting at the Country Club Tuesday evening.

Nineteen harness horsemen were present. These are the men who race their stables at the annual Lions Club matinee race program each spring. This year's program will be held Sunday, May 6, at the Fairgrounds here.

All proceeds from the day's activities go to the Lions club sight-saving program to buy glasses and provide eye care for the needy of this area.

A highlight of the evening was the showing of movies in color of the 1955 Indianapolis Speedway Race, plus, two harness races won by Eddie Cobb at Yonkers Raceway, New York last fall.

Committee reports were given by John Breiner on the annual minstrel show staged last month. Breiner reported that a complete report would not be available until the next meeting because all receipts had not been turned in.

Breiner also reported that a Babe Ruth baseball league is rapidly taking shape. Present plans call for a four-team league to be made up of boys from 13 through 15 years of age. Sponsors will be the four Lions clubs in the county. They are, in addition to the Washington C. H. club, clubs at Jeffersonville, Bloomington and Good Hope.

RICHARD GILLEN, chairman of the Eye Conservation Committee reported that 29 eye cases have gone through the committee up to the present date, with a total of $648.58 paid from the treasury. Of the 29 two were hospitalized at Children's Hospital for operations for cross-eyes; 21 were for new glasses; most all were for school age children.

One exception was an old age pensioner who had used up all of her medical care allotment from the Division of Aid for the Aged.

Five persons had repairs made to their glasses and one person's plastic eye was rebuilt. Also, $100 was contributed to the Ohio Lions Eye Research laboratory at Ohio State University.

Gillen also reported that three subscriptions for the Braille edition of Readers' Digest are now being sent to Carl Johnson, Mrs. Vesper Hick and William Fout.

Guests at the meeting were Earl Rea, president of the Good Hope club, with John Breiner; Eugene Heath with Dustin Gorton and Dick Erdman a student at Kenyon College with his uncle Dr. Byers Shaw.

Dr. Shaw made the official "thank you" talk to the Memorial Hospital staff to the Lions Club for the Electro-Kardiograph donated to the hospital by the club.

John Sagar introduced the horsemen; he even threw in some "horse-play" with his introductions. He presented Dud Moon with a new drug to make his horses go faster, Eddie Cobb with a gold watch complete with a case and main spring that could have come out of an automobile seat and Harold Jones six-horse-size pills that would aid him in driving a straight course during a race.

Horsemen who stood and were warmly applauded by the Lions were Bob Strong, Ronnie Cornwell, Damon Baker, Paul (Slim) Norris Barney Coe, John Barnes, McKinley Kirk, Wendell Kirk, Eddie Kirk, Gus Bonner, Buck Norris, Gene Bock, Frank Lanum, Al Rhoads, John Haxton, Moon, Jones, Cobb and his father Claire Cobb.

The next meeting of the club will be Tuesday evening April 10 when the members of the Washington C. H. High School basketball team will be guests. The speaker will be Coach Paul Walker of the champion Middletown team.

County Soaked By Heavy Rain Wednesday

Unusually heavy rainfall, that came with a series of electrical storms, swept a large portion of Fayette County early Wednesday and the rain continued with little let-up well into the day.

Some thunder occurred late Tuesday, but the electrical disturbance early Wednesday was more severe and centered largely in the eastern half of the county.

During the heavy downpour between 7 and 8 A. M. Wednesday, storm sewers were flooded, and water stood many inches deep entirely across some of the streets until the overtaxed sewers could carry off the excess.

Small lakes were left standing in the fields in the path of the hardest of the rains and streams were raised sharply within a short time.

Up until 7 A. M. rainfall for the 24 hours totaled .22 of an inch, but within the next few hours after 7 A. M. the total for the 24 hour period was passed and rain was still falling.

Colder weather was expected for Wednesday night, with a mixture of weather scheduled for Thursday including possible snowflurries.

Final Tribute Paid Harley Hamilton

Funeral services for Harley T. Hamilton were conducted at 1 P. M. Tuesday at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here by Rev. Arthur George.

The minister read the Scripture, offered prayer, delivered the funeral sermon and read an obituary that had been prepared by Mrs. George.

Mrs. George, playing her own accompaniment, sang the two hymns, "Beyond the Sunset," and "The Old Rugged Cross."

The pallbearers, who also cared for the flowers, were John Warner, Dan Warner, Emery Kemp, Elza Woodruff, Herman Sword and William Gardner.

Interment was in the Washington C. H.

The Easter sunrise services will be at 6:30 A. M. The senior Methodist Youth Fellowship will act as sponsors. Program for the sunrise services includes a hymn, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today," Scripture reading by Bob Crouse, prayer by Tom Swaim, talk and benediction by Philip Grover and another hymn, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory."

Frank Miller will serve as organist, with Philip French, Robert Montgomery, Larry Fisher, Douglas Rider, Roger Boswell and Robert Burris serving as ushers.

There will be duplicate worship services at 8 and 10:30 A. M. Rev. Edwin Dickey will preach a sermon entitled "Our Eternal Hope" at both services.

Red Wing Patrol Works And Dances

A bit of square dancing during Health Aid merit badges and recreation period, work on the planning for a trip to the Shrine Circus in Columbus Monday took up the bulk of the tune at the meeting of the Red Wing Girl Scout Patrol here Tuesday.

The eight members met at the home of Mrs. Charles Killinder, advisor. Ann Killinder, patrol leader, led the meeting. Jean Hamilton served refreshments.

Girl Scouts Elect Slate Of Officers

New officers today are running the affairs of the Eagle Patrol of Girl Scout Troop 1, following the election held at Tuesday's meeting at the home of the patrol advisor, Mrs. Betty Rhoads.

Margaret Turner is the new patrol leader.

Other officers are Mary Seymour, assistant patrol leader; Mary Kay Shipley, secretary; Carol Row, treasurer; Betty Merritt, song leader; Joy Jarrell, refreshment chairman; Karol McCune, recreation leader; and Carol Hyer, meeting page.

Upcoming events announced included the Girl Scout cookie sale April 6 to 16 and the Cancer Society tag day drive April 21. The girls plan to assist in the tag day drive.

THE BUSINESS session was opened by the outgoing patrol leader, Carol Row. Carol Hyer and Joy Jarrell gave the treasurer's and secretary's reports.

At the close of the business session, the girls began the work of sewing skirts for their Girl Scout uniforms, using machines on loan from the Singer Sewing Center here.

Mrs. Walter Hyer, Mrs. Robert Seymour and Mrs. Rhoads assisted in the sewing session.

Carol Hyer served refreshments and the meeting closed with a friendship circle and prayer.

The next meeting will be an all-day session on Friday, when the girls plan to continue work on their uniform skirts.
